GENESIS 25:21-34; 27:1-41 Psalm 105:9 ESAU SELLS HIS BIRTHRIGHT / JACOB STEALS THE BLESSING File no. 16

For a long time Rebekah had no children. Isaac prayed to God and God answered his prayer. God gave Rebekah twin boys.

The first baby they named Esau. He was very hairy.

The second baby they named Jacob.

One day Esau came home and was very hungry.

He smelled Jacob's stew, and said, 'Give me some stew or I'll die.'

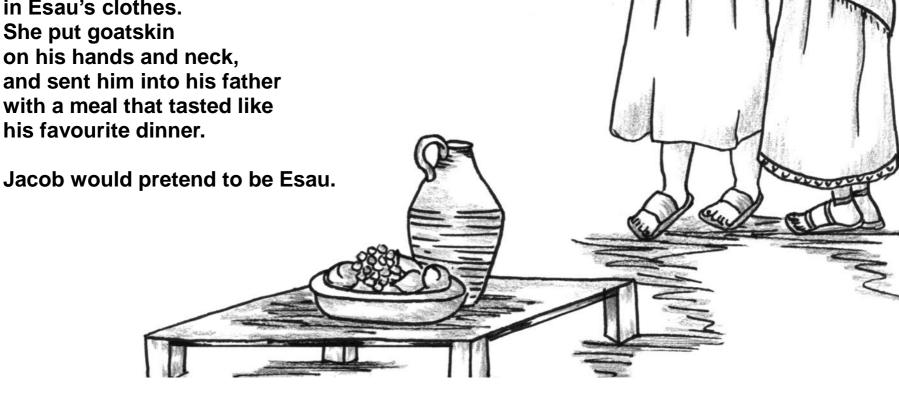

Jacob said, 'You can have some stew if you give me the rights of the firstborn.'

Later, their father Isaac, who was old and blind, said to Esau, 'Bring me my favourite dinner made of wild deer. Then I will bless you before I die.'

Rebekah wanted Jacob to get that blessing. God had told her that He had chosen Jacob.

So Rebekah dressed Jacob in Esau's clothes. She put goatskin on his hands and neck, and sent him into his father with a meal that tasted like his favourite dinner.

Jacob said, 'Here I am father'.

'Who are you? asked Isaac.

'I am Esau,' replied Jacob.

'How did you come back so quickly?' asked his father.

'Your God helped me,' said Jacob.

'Come and let me feel you,' said Isaac.
'Your voice is Jacob's.
Your hands are like Esau's.
Are you really Esau?'

'Yes, I am,' lied Jacob.

Isaac ate up his favourite dinner. He put his hands on Jacob's head and blessed him.

Later, Esau came in to his father and said, 'Sit up, eat your dinner and give me your blessing.'

'Who are you?' asked Isaac.

'I am Esau,' he replied.

Then Isaac began to shake.

'Who was that who brought me my favourite dinner?' he asked.
'I ate it and gave him my blessing.'

Esau cried out,

'Bless me too, father, is there a blessing for me?'

But Isaac had given it to Jacob.
